There are always more things happening at the Capitol that can be covered in a newsletter so I will try to hit some of the main points.

Education issues continue to be on the front burner. After the school choice bill passed, it should also be mentioned that we passed a 3% increase in State Supplemental Aid (SSA) for public schools this past week. Yes, we care about public schools.

On that note, I also attended a hearing this past week where several teachers shared their frustration regarding discipline problems and the lack of support from administrators in dealing with it. We heard stories of physical and sexual assault in the schools with nothing being done about it!

The teachers we heard from were also frustrated with some of the curriculum they are required to use that compounds the problems they are facing. Specifically mentioned was ESL (Emotional Social Learning), which may go by different names. Essentially it is a philosophy that bases truth on how the individual feels and then that becomes the standard for values, morals, etc. It is easy to see why teachers become frustrated trying to teach and maintain order in an atmosphere where there is no absolute truth. The situation may be less intense in some districts, but it is becoming clear that it is widespread, and no district is without this problem to some degree.

The fruit of this humanistic philosophy is manifesting in various ways, one of which is the sexualization of children under the guise of "education." Some materials commonly found in public school libraries are so pornographic and obscene that I hesitate to even describe it. However, just so you know exactly how bad this is, I will provide some sample content at the end of this email (and this isn't even the worst). This is why we are working on bills to rid our schools of harmful philosophies and filthy material that essentially grooms kids to accept perverted sexual lifestyles.

To properly address this issue will require a more comprehensive approach than just removing dirty books. If we expect to remain a free people, we need to bring the concept of absolute moral values, God, the Ten Commandments, etc., back into our schools. Afterall, our founding document, the Declaration of Independence, refers to the laws of nature and nature's God and Freedom is Liberty Under Law.

Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

WARNING: GRAPHIC CONTENT

Note: I edited the picture to remove the most graphic part, but the book this came from, called Gender Queer, plainly showed the male organ.

Addressing this is not an easy battle. We are already being called book burning nazis by some who think this kind of filth is just fine. Others are afraid to confront the root of the problem, suggesting we should not connect this to the LGBTQ movement or to the same-sex marriage issue. But how can anyone honestly believe these things are not connected? When we normalize this kind of behavior in our culture, this is what it leads to.
